AUGUSTANA HOSPITAL

LUTHERAN

AUGILOG 1956

Augustana Hospital School of Nursing

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

*Along these paths . . . Follow me . . .
... through study . . . recreation . . .
toil . . . and it's glorious fulfillment.*

Chaplain Daniel Sandstedt

WE DEDICATE THIS, OUR BOOK, TO YOU . . .

For the sympathetic understanding you have shown us . . .
For the spiritual messages . . . which have inspired us along the "path of life" . . . Your boyish grin has changed many a frown to smiles . . . Your ready wit has enlightened our hearts
. . . You have not only fulfilled the duties of a busy hospital chaplain . . . but also that of a friend and confidant . . . For the kindness you have exemplified . . . For the never-ending patience you always possess . . .

GOD BLESS YOU!

*And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God,
to them who are called according to his purposes.*

Romans 8:28

... I was sick, and ye visited me: ...

Matthew 25:36

August twenty-ninth . . . the day of our dreams . . . Our career as nurses was beginning . . . Doubt . . . Anticipation . . . Parties . . . Orientation . . . Classes began . . . lights burned late . . . Soon we were caught in the tide . . . Our first days on the floor . . . bed baths . . . back rubs . . . a new world opened to us . . . Christmas time . . . caroling on the floors . . . parties . . . finals . . . "Home". Two weeks flew by . . . emotions mixed — eager to return . . . reluctant to leave . . . On March nineteenth . . . misty-eyed . . . with bursting hearts . . . we received our Caps . . . our first goal won . . . FRESHMAN NOW . . . growing confidence . . . increased maturity . . . greater responsibilities . . . Spring . . . Seniors' graduation . . . how we wished to be in their shoes . . . Convention time . . . folk dancing . . . singing . . . representatives of Augie . . . a year is over . . . we've learned so much . . . Our future's still a haze . . . Our God will guide us through . . .

OUR JUNIOR YEAR . . . A very busy one indeed . . . Gave rise to more classwork . . . and now responsibilities . . . Along with this educational progress came obstacles — big and small . . . which we learned to take in our stride . . . Case studies . . . final examinations . . . and outside affiliations . . . all became a part of our daily life . . . Numerous activities appeared on the agenda . . . With the selling of “Affy Tapples”, doughnuts, nylon stockings and toy dogs . . . (What an assortment!) . . . our treasury slowly mounted . . . Other projects included the “Frost Hop” in December and bake sales early in ’56 . . . Success in these undertakings led to the production of one enjoyable evening . . . The Junor-Senior Banquet . . . As Juniors, we were the “in-betweens”. Behind us, were the Freshman class in whose capping ceremony we had a “Big Sister” role . . . Ahead of us were the Seniors, whose commencement exercises we watched with pride and envy . . . To the Freshman, we owe moments of retrospection and reminiscence . . . To the Seniors, we are grateful for their help . . . And to ourselves . . . We can surely say that there has been no other year like our Junior one!

Senior Class History

CLASS ADVISER
Miss Bertha Klauser

You give to the world the best you have — and the best will come back to you.

Now that we're ending our three year stay . . . a strange nostalgia creeps o'er us . . . There were times when our feet ached and yet we've stayed at work . . . for until our job was done our conscience could have no rest . . . Behind each door a different need . . . Whether in the light of day or the dark of night . . . PATIENTS, GOD'S CREATURES, each showing us strength in their hour of weakness . . . each expressing gratefulness through word and deed, making all nursing worthwhile . . . We entered this significant world on the first day of September '53 young . . . willing . . . eager to learn . . . We studied hard, but had our joys . . . Life and companionship were our teachers . . . Through our experiences we learned even more . . . Our special services at Augie . . . no baths on these . . . but here we came to recognize the unique pattern . . . no person, . . . no department, sufficient unto itself . . . CMH . . . DOWNEY . . . VNA . . . TB . . . How well we'll remember these! . . . Bake sales . . . our tremendous bazaar . . . mention pineapple and we'll dream about the Junior-Senior Banquet . . . How proud we were, our hearts nearly bursting when we — Augie — sang at the convention on April twenty-ninth in '56. Just as we gained our caps . . . so now . . . standing straight, and oh, so proudly . . . we donned our whites and received our pins . . . Are we ready? . . . Who knows but God . . .

President JANET SCHROEDER
No single virtue could we most commend.

Vice-President RONELLE FORT
What a sense of humor!

Secretary RUTH WIRTALA
Sweet and kind in every way.

Treasurer INGRID PERSSON

*Although the road has been rocky,
 Over no dearer rocks I'll roam.
 Because of all your understanding,
 Here will always be my home,
 Just a little figure,
 Made with ink and a guided pen,
 I represent all the students
 Who wish to thank you again and again.*
