

Call for papers!

Journal of Patient-Centered Research and Reviews is actively seeking original manuscript submissions on all health-related topics, from primary to specialty care.

Indexed by Google Scholar and Directory of Open Access Journals, JPCRR offers double-blind peer review with no author fees of any kind. General submissions are welcome at any time.

With readers hailing from 175 countries and nearly 100,000 article downloads in just over four years of publication, JPCRR is one of the most frequently read medical journals in the Digital Commons Network™ (bepress, Berkeley, CA).

Article categories include:

- Original Research
- Systematic Review / Meta-Analysis
- Narrative Review
- Quality Improvement
- Brief Report
- Medical Education
- Patient Perspectives

For complete author instructions or to submit a paper, visit our website: www.aurora.org/jpcrr.

A quarterly medical journal founded in 2014 by Aurora Health Care, JPCRR spans the complete spectrum of health disciplines. Available to readers worldwide, JPCRR stands out among gratis open access journals for the diversity and scientific rigor of its articles.

For questions regarding submission, contact the editorial office at JPCRR@aurora.org.